Dear Mr. Jean-Francois Donzier

In 2010, at the Conference of representatives of the countries of the former Soviet Union was established Network of Water Management Organizations from Eastern Europe, Caucasus and Central Asia (EECCA NWO). To date, the network consists of more than 70 organizations from Russia, Ukraine, Belarus, Kazakhstan, Azerbaijan, Georgia, Armenia, Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan, Tajikistan, Kyrgyzstan, Moldova.

Network holds annual conferences and produces printed materials, disseminates professional information through the Web-site: www.eecca-water.net. The network has received support from international organizations.

We hereby inform you that on November 8, 2013 in Moscow, Russia there will be held annual Conference of EECCA NWO. On the second day, November 9, we will hold a round table, which will be attended by our colleagues from Eastern Europe, with whom we collaborated in the past. Also it will be attended by the heads of state authorities responsible for Water Management in countries included in our network. The Conference and the round table will be attended by senior officials of the INBO, UNECE and other international organizations.

We invite you to take part in the round table. We'd love to hear from you about how the water management system of your country are under operations in the new market economy, as well as discuss the possibility of restoring the professional cooperation between our countries.

We would like to ask you inform us about your ability to attend the events in Moscow with the aim to address organizational issues in advance (visa, travel, accommodation, etc).

Sincerely yours,
Acad. Polad-zade
President of EECCA NWO
